

Every Township Home Will Receive Survival Booklet

Distribution of booklets entitled, "Survival Under Atomic Attack," is expected to get under way in many communities of the township next week.

It is the goal of the Township Civil Defense Council to place one of these booklets in every home in the township.

Gene Manning, township defense director, said yesterday that to date four towns have ordered booklets for distribution and the other community directors are completing surveys of the number of homes in the school district which they serve.

Manning said that the distribution of the booklets here is a part of the overall plan to place one of the booklets in every home on the California coast.

The booklets are being printed at government expense and the distribution to rural areas of this county is being supervised by Sheriff H. P. Gleason and his staff.

The door-to-door distribution in the communities here is expected to be accomplished through the cooperation of the Scouts.

WEEK'S PROGRESS REPORTED
Progress reports filed with Manning this week by the community directors indicated that the civil defense organization in this area is being completed in record time.

L. S. Williams, Centerville director, reported that a survey of his area revealed that booklets would be needed for 791 homes.

At Niles, L. R. Bateman, director, stated that booklets would be needed for 1200 homes, according to a survey made by Peter Juhl, manager of the P. G. & E. office. Vincent Kaehler, Newark director, announced the appointment of Ray Truscott as transportation and supply chairman.

Charles Venturi, Warm Springs director, stated in his report that a second first aid class would begin sessions January 29 at 2:30 p.m. at the school with Mrs. Lois Nelson as the instructor.

He also stated that John Souza, fire chief, is to begin a class to teach some of the women of the community how to operate the resuscitator.

NEED VOLUNTEERS

Manning pointed out that the community defense directors are greatly handicapped in tabulating the residents of their area in the tasks that they are capable of performing because of the failure of localities to fill out and file the civil defense volunteer forms.

He said that 1,500 of the defense forms have been distributed here and only 124 had been filed as of Thursday.

The number of enrollment forms filed from each of the communities is as follows: Centerville, 61; Warm Springs, 8; Niles, 20; Newark, 8; Decoto, 3; Mission San Jose, 0; Alvarado, 1; Alviso, 0; and Irvington, 23.

Enrollment forms are available at all post offices in the township or at Manning's office at 156 South Main Street, Centerville.

The next meeting of the community directors is scheduled for Monday evening, February 19, at the Justice Court in Centerville.

INDUSTRIAL GROWTH HERE EXCEEDS 2 1/2 MILLION IN 1950

Industrial growth in Washington Township during 1950, both in new developments and expansion of existing plants, totaled $2,565,000, according to figures compiled by the Alameda County New Industries Committee.

Heading the list of new industries is the $2,500,000 plant now under construction at Decoto for the U. S. Pipe & Foundry Company. This plant, scheduled for completion July 1, 1951, is being constructed on a 71-acre site bounded by Whipple Road and the Western Pacific Railroad. The company's first facility west of the Mississippi is expected to employ 150 people in the production of cast-iron pipe for the Pacific coast.

Largest expansion project undertaken by a local industry during the year was the $30,000 project at the Weibel Champagne Vineyards at Mission San Jose. The expansion included the construction of a wine storage building.

Additional warehouse space was constructed by the La Clede-Christy Co., manufacturers of tank blocks for molten glass and refractory specialties, at Warm Springs. Scheduled for completion next month is a $25,000 one-story four-unit quonset type building.

The Irvington Packing Company, engaged in food processing, constructed a new warehouse at an approximate investment of $10,000 and added four new employees.

SIXTEEN TOWNSHIP YOUTHS JOIN NAVY

Centerville enlistees were: Henry Peter Morlos, son of Mrs. Agnes Morlos; Ruben Manuel Guerra, son of Mrs. Lillardo Guerra; and Anthony Balcita, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Balcita.

Newark youths who joined Uncle Sam's fleet are: Ronald Anthony Martin, Merle Lorenzo Runolfson, son of Mrs. Lena Runolfson, and James Edgar Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Terring.

LIGHTS GO ON ALL OVER TOWN NEXT TUESDAY

Washington Township will look like the Great White Way Tuesday evening, January 30, if present plans of the local P.T.A. units materialize.

On that night, between 7 and 8 o'clock, residents all over the township will leave their porch lights burning, indicating to P.T.A. canvassers for the polio fund that they wish to contribute.

Mrs. W. H. Chivers, Washington High School P.T.A. president and chairman of the Porch Light Brigade, stated this week that enthusiasm for the project is running high. "We are lining up P.T.A. representatives who will call on all the homes whose porch lights are burning," she said. "The plan was carried out successfully last year in Phoenix, Arizona, during the March of Dimes, where $44,000 was collected. We hope that here, too, the project will prove successful."

Mrs. Chivers went on to point out the need for additional infantile paralysis funds. "Many young people stricken with the disease," she said, "do not have the proper care because of the inadequacy of funds for this purpose. We need hope the local residents will realize this, and give generously, more and more every year. I Who knows?—your own home might be hit by the disease some day."

The following P.T.A. members are chairmen for their towns: Mrs. Mary Cardoza, Decoto; Mrs. Nick Lewis, Centerville; Mrs. Frank Andrade, Niles. At press time it was uncertain whether the remaining towns in the township would participate.

SCENIC DRIVE . . . The picturesque roadway shown above can be found in Washington Township, however its location is the mystery to be solved in this week's "Guess Where" Contest. When you think you know the location of the roadway pictured above, telephone The Register, Niles 3261 or 3271, after 9 a.m. If your answer is correct and you are the first or twentieth to telephone and correctly solve the puzzle, you will receive a check for $2.50.

ONLY ONE WINNER IN LAST WEEK'S MYSTERY PICTURE PRIZE CONTEST

Only 19 Washington Township residents were able to identify the mystery picture in last week's "Guess Where" Contest.

A total of 22 persons telephoned The Register to guess on the identity and location of the mystery picture and all but three were correct.

Anthony Rogers of Mission San Jose, who has participated in all but three of the weekly contests, for the second time missed winning the second cash award by but one number. Rogers telephoned his answers Monday morning, becoming the 19th and final contestant for the week.

Thus, for the fourth time in the 18 weeks that the contest has been sponsored by The Register, there was but one prize winner.

First-prize winner, and only contestant winning a prize for last week's contest, was Tom Estudillo of Niles, who telephoned promptly at 9 a.m. and identified the subject of the picture as the bell-topped monument on the lawn at the Irvington Grammar School.

Other contestants who correctly identified the picture and its location, in the order that their calls were tabulated, were: Laura Estudillo, Niles; Mrs. Lee Fowles, Niles; E. D. Bristow, Niles; Mae Freitas, Newark; Rev. Paul Focht, Niles; Tom Maloney, Centerville; Mrs. Frank Cardoza, Irvington; Donald Bragg, Decoto; Mary Maciel, Newark; Ray Alberts, Newark; Oliver Cordeniz, Niles; Mrs. Erle Hygelund, Centerville; Mrs. John Williams, Irvington; Mary Ponsiano, Centerville; Mosco Pennington, Irvington; Mrs. Tony Rivers, Centerville; Mrs. Frank Mayer, Irvington; and Anthony Rogers, Mission San Jose.

When you think you know what road it is, and where it is located in Washington Township, telephone The Register, Niles 3261 or 3271, after 9 a.m. If you are the first or twentieth to telephone and give the correct answers, you will be mailed a check for $2.50

TRIAL FOR DECOTO GUNMAN TODAY

Preliminary examination for Peter Leyva, 43-year-old Decoto tavern operator charged with assault with a deadly weapon, will be held in Niles Justice Court today (Friday) at 1:30 p.m.

Leyva appeared in court here last week for arraignment and through his attorney, Edward Plotner of Oakland, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. He is free on bail of $1,000.

He is charged with shooting Fred Sandoval, also of Decoto, in a Decoto pool room on the evening of December 23. Sandoval has recovered from his wounds.

Water Board Hears 'Rainmaking' Method

"Rain for sale"—when you want it, where you want it, and as much as you want! This sounds like a fantastic proposition. But is it?

The board of directors of the Alameda County Water District last Friday evening heard the sales-talk of a rainmaker who guaranteed exactly this. He is Kenneth Perry of the Universal Air Service of Palo Alto.

Perry told the directors that, using methods of artificial rain-making developed by Drs. Langmuir and Shaefer of the General Electric Company, he can extract water from clouds passing over an area and precipitate it within one mile of a specific point on the ground.

TWO METHODS

There are two methods of making rain, according to Perry: by ground generation or by using airplanes. Both methods use silver iodide or other chemicals. In the ground method, the chemical is conducted up to the clouds by rising wind currents or updrafts, known as thermals.

The airplane method involves "seeding" clouds from the plane, considering wind drift between the cloud and the ground so that the rain can be placed accurately in a "target area."

In the airplane method, Perry explained, the clouds from which the rain is to be obtained will lie normally at 5,000 to 10,000 feet. The accuracy of placement of the rain on the ground will depend on the knowledge of wind currents between the cloud and the ground.

GIVES EXAMPLE

As an example, he said: "If there is an average net horizontal wind velocity of 30 miles per hour between the clouds and the ground and a time of fall of five minutes, the rain will be swept horizontally a distance of 2.5 miles. There may be several different wind currents at different levels between the clouds and the ground which can be checked by means of trial runs in the airplane."

"When the pilot has complete knowledge of all wind currents he can predict where the rain will hit the ground. Even with incomplete knowledge of the wind currents obtained by a limited number of trial runs, the pilot is able to place the rain within one mile of a given ground target point from 5,000 feet and within two miles from 10,000 feet under average conditions."

QUANTITY UNLIMITED

The quantity of artificial rain which could be produced, Perry said, is virtually unlimited. Out of the total moisture content of the air, only one per cent falls as normal rain. Thus, even a small percentage increase will result in considerable rainfall.

As a base of conjecture, following the rain-maker's talk, the possibility of filling the Calaveras reservoir with artificial rain was suggested. This would then make possible the releasing of water down Alameda Creek in a dry season so that ground levels of water could be maintained for agricultural pumping.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

How much does artificial rainfall cost?

Perry estimates the cost at approximately 88 cents per acre-foot. He made no specific proposition to the local water district.

However, he has made Santa Clara County officials an offer to produce 6,000 acre-feet of water per month over a six months' period at a cost of $32,000.

FANTASTIC?

Perry spoke of selling a crop of rain as easily as though talking over a crop-dusting problem with a farmer. No, rainmaking isn't at all fantastic.

ANNUAL RECOGNITION DINNER SATURDAY

The annual recognition dinner meeting of the Oakland Area Boy Scout Council will be held Saturday evening in the Scottish Rite Temple in Oakland, Judge Allen G. Norris, Centerville, president of the Council, announced this week.

The dinner meeting will feature an address by Gordon Smith and recognition of outstanding Scouters from throughout the Council. All Scouters, Cub leaders and their wives have been invited to attend.

RAINMAKING TALK SCHEDULED TONIGHT

Artificial rain-making will be discussed at a public meeting this evening (Friday) at 8 o'clock at the International Kitchen, it has been announced by W. D. Patterson, president of the board of directors of the Alameda County Water District.

Speaker at the meeting will be Col. T. R. Gillenwaters, of the Water Resources Development Corp. of Pasadena.

"This program should be of vital interest to all industries and individuals having water problems," Mr. Patterson stated.

Local water officials said this week that they are not attempting the inauguration of such a project here, but have called the meeting to afford local residents an opportunity to know the various types of projects which are being studied by the local board.

CENTERVILLE GRAVEL OPERATION STUDIED

Action favoring or opposing the application to open a new gravel operation near Centerville was tabled until next week's meeting by the Centerville Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon meeting Monday.

A committee, composed of Charles Wauhab, Gene Manning and Harvey Granger, made a study of the land involved and voted two to one in opposition to the plan. However, they refused to make any recommendations to the Chamber on what action should be taken by the unit as a whole.

Manning, who was unable to be present at Monday's meeting, will make his report next week and at that time the group will be called upon to take definite action. The application will be given a public hearing before the Alameda County Planning Commission in Oakland on January 30.

The project involves some 30 acres of land owned by Mrs. Clarence Perkins. The application to operate the gravel pit has been filed by D. A. Gildersleeve.

Mrs. Perkins attended the meeting of the Chamber this week and spoke briefly in defense of the project, stating that she did not believe that the area involved would ever be adaptable for homesites.

Save Your Jobless Pay!

BY ROSS GRAHAM

It would be hard to believe such a sweet, neat and businesslike appearing girl is one of the thousands who are "chiseling" the California unemployment insurance fund to such an extent that even in this year of prosperity, the fund is diminishing.

But she is a typical example of the chisellers who "are available for work," a requirement in order to get unemployment benefits.

This little lady got tired of working and wanted a vacation—with pay—at the expense of the public pocketbook—and her fellow-workers.

So she quit her job and after waiting the disqualification period, began to draw the maximum of $25 a week for 26 weeks.

She must have been capable, because she held her previous job long enough to pile up the required earnings in her base period to qualify for unemployment insurance payments.

Let's say she is a stenographer. She makes her regular report to the Unemployment Insurance Commission branch office and states she is available for work. There are numerous calls for stenographers, so she is given a referral slip and sent out to be interviewed by a prospective employer.

She does not get the job. If the commission checks up, it finds:

She refused the job because the pay was insufficient.

She refused the job because she would be required to do mimeograph work in addition to stenographic work.

She went home before applying for the job, put on sloppy clothes, made her entire personal appearance sloppy, used bad grammar at the interview and if given a typing test, deliberately failed.

Probably more chiseling is perpetrated on the question of availability than in any other way.

The commission disqualifies more individuals on this issue than on any other.

But still, too many of these chisellers get by.

But how about this new amendment to the act, that individuals asking benefits be forced to "seek work on their own?"

This is one of the easiest requirements to evade, possibly because the Unemployment Insurance Commission does not have enough investigators to check such people.

When making her weekly appearance for certification of benefits at the Unemployment Insurance Commission office, the average person's interview lasts less than one minute.

A man, or woman, intent upon chiseling, will come prepared with a list of firms and states that he or she has applied, in vain, at all of these firms for work.

Even if the Commission had the personnel to check such claims, it would in many cases be impossible, because the average firm does not keep a record of all the people who apply for work.

So there is no way to check these claims, and the chiseler goes merrily on for another week, on unemployment insurance.

One weakness of the unemployment insurance act is that the "suitable employment" definition is too restrictive.

It doesn't allow a bricklayer to refuse a job laying yellow bricks because he is a "red brick" layer, but in too many cases it allows a claimant to get unemployment insurance and refuse employment on similar flimsy pretexts.

The commission tries to send out qualified applicants for jobs, but the commission needs amendments to the act if it is going to stop such chiseling.

NEW BOOKS

"The Adventurer" by Mika Waltari. This new novel has the same broad scope as "The Egyptian." All of Europe in the early sixteenth century. Lusty humor and a real love story.

"Kon-Tiki" by Thor Heyerdahl. Across the Pacific on a 40-foot raft. Five men risked their lives to show that the ancient Peruvians could have made the 4300-mile voyage to the Polynesian Islands on a similar craft. One of the recent books you can't afford to miss.

"Lift Up Your Heart" by Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen. Monsignor Sheen discusses the inner life of modern man in terms of three levels, on one of which he believes you and everyone else is living today. Each of these levels is treated in readable detail. A book which will appeal to thousands of readers, Catholic and non-Catholic who found comfort in "Peace of Soul."

"The Disenchanted" by Budd Schulberg. As an incisive study of American success, as a searching comparison of values in the 20s and 30s, as a tragic love story, this book will be one of the most widely discussed books of the year.

"Jewelry and Gem Cutting and Metalcraft" by William T. Baxter (third edition revised). A practical manual for making distinctive jewelry at a fraction of the commercial cost. It has simple, easy step by step instructions.

"The Salad Book" by Louis P. DeGouy. By the author of the "Gold Cookbook." A complete book on salads and their seasonings.

"Effects of Atomic Weapons," Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory.

Here is a vital survey of what to expect from atom bomb explosions. A key to protective measures for personnel and property. For every person now or to be concerned with the new factors on defense and emergency.

"Son of a Hundred Kings" by Thomas B. Costain. A warm, appealing story of a young boy and a Canadian town at the turn of this century.

"Randall and the River of Time" by C. S. Forester. The hero is a most attractive young man, nice looking, well-mannered, diffident, yet extremely able, inexperienced, yet perfectly capable of meeting any situation. This book tells the exciting story of how he met some extraordinary situations, and how he came to know much more about life and people in general and himself in particular.

"The Weeping and the Laughter" by Vera Caspary. A good mystery. A psychological thriller.

"Poisonous Relations" by Joanna Cannan. Two murders in an old fashioned English family home. Another good one for the mystery fans.

"The Infinite Woman" by Edson

Marshall. A fascinating novel about Lola Montez. It has overtones of philosophy and a deep understanding of the dark and the golden in the souls of women and of the men who mold them and are molded by them.

"Tight Little Island" by Compton Mackenzie. This is about two little islands in the outer Hebrides, Great Toddy and Little Toddy (not to be confused with hot toddy). The islanders have been thrown into an abyss of depression and gloom by the rationing and exporting of all their Scotch whiskey, and then—a ship loaded with their beloved brew sinks on their shore. What happens then is hilarious and exciting.

"The Widow" by Susan Yorke. This is a first novel of unusual distinction. A story of love and emotional conflict, the desire to possess and the desire to destroy, expressed in the form of a personal narrative addressed directly by the widow to her young lover. The author writes of a world cultured and sophisticated, and tells a story that moves with warmth and passion to its dramatic conclusion.

"Drums Behind the Hill" by

Ursula Graham Bower. The author spent nine joyous years among the ex-headhunters of northeast India. Except that it happened, this exotic and dramatic story would seem unbelievable.

Zwissig, who was elected to the position last February, told the group that he will leave next week for Davis where he will enroll in the University of California School of Agriculture to begin studying toward becoming a doctor of veterinary medicine.

He formerly operated a dairy near Irvington, selling his cattle this winter.

Mrs. Zwissig will continue to teach the kindergarten at the Irvington school until the completion of the current term, when she and the family will join Robert at Davis.

HUSKIES FAVORED TO GRAB FOURTH SCVAL WIN TONIGHT

A field goal sunk in the last six seconds of play last Friday night gave the Washington Huskies their third consecutive Santa Clara Valley Athletic League victory and kept them at the top of the league pennant race in a tie for first place.

The winning shot was dropped through the hoop by Maurice Vargas, rangy Huskie center, from the deep corner of the court, breaking up the 38-38 tie.

While the Indians were concentrating on covering "Whitey" Juhl, high-scoring ace on the Washington varsity, Evans seared the hoop for 17 points, chalking up seven field goals and three free throws.

CLOSE SCORING

The game was a thriller for the spectators from start to finish with never more than a two-point margin separating the two teams.

At the end of the first quarter the score stood 13-13. The Huskies held a one-point margin, 19 to 18, at the half and were unable to stretch that lead in the third period, with the score standing 28 to 27 going into the final stanza.

The Indians tied up the score in the closing seconds but Vargas' shot broke the tie and gave the Huskies their 40 to 38 victory.

The Washington Puppies suffered their third conference defeat, bowing to the Papooses 42 to 36 in the curtain-raiser. Zavaterza led the Puppies in scoring with 14 points.

Tonight (Friday) the two squads will be hosts to the James Lick quintets from San Jose in their fourth conference tilt of the season. The opening game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and a capacity crowd is expected to cheer the lads on towards their first conference pennant in several years.

Coach Clyde Voorhees said yesterday that unless his boys have an off night they should chalk up their fourth league win. He pointed out, however, that this new school in the conference has had a little difficulty in getting rolling in league play but has shown marked improvement during the past two weeks.

Sodium chloride, or common salt, is the principal saline product of Alameda County.

CHAMBER APPROVES POISON PURCHASE

The Irvington Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting Tuesday, approved the payment of a bill for 19 cents for poison!

The bill was presented by Vice-President Robert Zwissig and caused some turmoil among the members until it was learned that it was ant poison.

Zwissig explained that it had become necessary to make the purchase last December to protect the candy which the Chamber had sacked for distribution to the youngsters of the community at the annual Christmas party.

Injured in the crash were Arthur Santos, Lawrence Garcia and Stanley Caires of Mission San Jose. A fourth passenger in the car, Douglas Mackintosh of Niles, escaped injury.

The accident occurred at the intersection of 13th Street and Bayshore Highway when the automobile driven by Santos was struck by a large truck.

Garcia and Caires were hospitalized overnight in San Jose, suffering from lacerations, bruises and shock. Santos, who received severe scalp lacerations and bruises about the chest, was released from the hospital on Wednesday.

The car was demolished.

He said that normally each Den Mother meets with but six Cubs once a week. However, here at Niles the Pack has but three Den Mothers.

Women wishing to serve are asked to telephone Mrs. Frank Crossman, Niles 3863, or attend the next meeting on February 5 at the Scout hut at 8 p.m.

ANNOUNCING

THE CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP OF THE Irvington Dime & Dollar

We have purchased the store in Irvington formerly operated by L. W. Krueger, and are anxious to meet and serve all the residents of Washington Township.

We invite you to come in and say "hello" and get acquainted.

We also wish to announce that the store will be closed on Sundays.

"BUS" AND LOIS LEACH

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

I can see where this artificial rain-making business can lead to trouble.

Suppose Mrs. Doakes bears a grudge against Mrs. Hoakes. Mrs. Doakes calls the rain-makers, asks them to arrange a little cloudburst right over Mrs. Hoakes' almost-dry Monday wash on the line, then sits back and smiles smugly as she contemplates her OWN wash out in the brilliant sunshine!

Firechief Roland Bendel of the Decoto Fire Department fought a blaze the other night in which he took a particularly personal interest. It was one of his own tapestry-covered chairs that caught fire.

"I was in the back of the house," said the chief, "when I smelled smoke. I rushed into the living room and saw the chair blazing. I thought of calling out the boys, but I decided I could take care of this one myself. So I grabbed a fire extinguisher and doused the flame."

How did the chair catch fire? "Well, we have one of those old fashioned fire screens," he said, "and a spark from the fire-place jumped over the top of it."

Now Chief Bendel has added another dangerous fire hazard to his long list of fire hazards. "Guess we'll have to get a new fire-screen," he lamented. "It wouldn't do for a fire-chief to have a fire hazard in his own home."

There was "standing room only" at the Rebekah installation at Odd Fellows Hall in Irvington last Friday night. Mrs. Edna Hescher, who was installed as noble grand, said wonderingly, "I don't know where all the people came from. For a little while it looked as though we wouldn't be able to take them all in."

The new noble grand went on to say that the highlight of the evening for her was the presence there of her Theta Rho girls, all dressed in their "formals." (She was formerly advisor to the girls.) "Didn't they look sweet?" she said enthusiastically. "They're the nicest, the best-behaved group of girls I've seen anywhere," she concluded sincerely.

There was no doubt that the youth and freshness of the girls added a great deal to the occasion.

Also adding to the occasion was the three-piece band comprised of the two Oxborrow children and little Miss Pugmire. If you want a zippy and well-organized three-piece band, there you are!

One of our elderly matrons of the township is lamenting the rise of prices. Her particular peeve is corsets. "The last corset I bought," she said, "was $26. The other day I bought the same corset, and it was $35! And I haven't increased in size, either," she added.

Stuart McClure of Mission San Jose—and San Francisco—is very much upset this week over the name of our mission in Mission San Jose (read our "Readers Write" column). He wants it changed to what he believes its correct name.

That, coupled with the fact that a faction of Country Club members is promoting the idea of changing the name of the Country Club of Washington Township to the Woman's Club of Washington Township, must mean that this little bit of the old planet is experiencing some sort of combustion.

I don't know which could cause the most tearing-out-of-hair—changing the name of the Mission or changing the name of the Country Club.

I'd like to ask Mr. McClure what we'll do with the "De Guadalupe?" Just leave it dangling somewhere in space?

The picture of the woman on the front page, being hovered over by two nurses, might indicate that she is having her ears washed. I assure you that this was not the case.

Mrs. Vivian Mau of Centerville is willing to put her Siamese cat in competition with any other cat in the township in a rat-catching contest.

"Most people," said Mrs. Mau, "think that a Siamese cat is purely for ornamental reasons—just a show cat."

Just to prove that they aren't, she told about her cat, named "Siamey," catching a 19-inch rat this week!

"He caught the big rat in a barn across the street," she said, "and brought him home, so I measured him. He was 19 inches from his nose to the tip of his tail—the biggest one I ever saw. Siamey," she continued, "catches more mice and rats than any other cat I ever saw. Don't anybody tell me that Siamese cats are just show cats."

What's this! The Hayward Chamber of Commerce is claiming the U. S. Pipe and Foundry at Decoto as its own!

In figures released this week the Hayward Chamber claimed that Hayward can boast of $5,000,000 in new industries. And among the industries mentioned was the Decoto plant!

Shall we give them the Pacific States Steel and American Forge also?

The P.T.A. "Porch Light Brigade" next Tuesday evening should bring in ample funds for the polio drive. It will be a matter of pride

LIONS, ROTARIANS HOLD JOINT MEET

More than 100 members of the Niles Rotary Club and Centerville Lions Club attended the joint meeting held Tuesday evening at the International Kitchen.

Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Walter A. Dew, Pacific district manager of the Du Pont Company, who spoke on the topic, "Progress in Better Living."

Dr. Dew mentioned some of the newest developments in chemical research and traced the process of the new commodities from the test tubes into the hands of the public as useful products.

He was introduced by John Ratekin, superintendent of Holly Sugar Company's plant at Alvarado, who was program chairman for the evening.

By GRACE CAMINADA

"An acute, contagious disease, more common in children than adults, characterized by inflammation of the gray matter of the spinal cord and causing motor paralysis as well as permanent deformities." And what is all this talk about? Just two simple words: infantile paralysis. Yes, the definition of a terrible disease, but it takes more than just words to help it out. It takes money for research and many more funds to aid poor, helpless youngsters and adults who will remain crippled unless they have aid from us who have been spared. Have you contributed your time or dollar yet? If not, remember to have your porch light on when the volunteer workers will come to collect your donations between 7 and 8 p.m. on Tuesday, January 30. Give and you will give ammunition to help wipe out that enemy—polio!

"DE GUADALUPE" WRONG

The Editor, Sir:

In his published "Genealogy and Recollections" my maternal grandfather, the late A. A. Moore, former Alameda County District Attorney who settled near Mission San Jose as a boy in 1853, wrote of the error in appending "de Guadalupe" to the name of the Mission and his efforts to have its identifying sign so altered.

I would like to take up his cudgel and, with the slight official tone I may have as the director representing Mission San Jose on the board of the Washington Township Historical Society, point out the error of miscalling Alameda County's most colorful landmark "Mission de Guadalupe."

Not only is reference to it as the "de Guadalupe Mission" erroneous, but the sign which identifies it as "Mission San Jose de Guadalupe" is wrong.

Probably the best authority I can quote to back up my contention is the following letter which I received recently from the official historian of the Franciscan Order in California, with whom I have corresponded on the subject:

"Where modern writers often make their mistake is that they confuse the city of San Jose with the Mission. When the city of San Jose was founded in 1777 it was founded along the banks of the Guadalupe River and the city was called 'El Pueblo de San Jose de Guadalupe.'

"When the Mission was founded in 1797, 20 years later and at an entirely different place, it was merely called 'Mission de San Jose.' I believe this simplifies the matter.

Rev. Maynard Geiger, OFM"

In the interest of accuracy, newspaperdom's basic commandment, I hope you will correct the erroneous impression many of the people in the township have concerning the name of our Mission.

STUART L. MCCLURE

Here's to Your Health

By DR. JAMES C. MALCOLM
Health Officer, Alameda County
Health Department

With the beginning of a new year, I would like to offer the New Year's wishes of the Health Department staff for Alameda County.

First, we wish that 1951 will be free from a single case of "preventable" disease. This means diphtheria, which can be prevented by adequate immunization of children which is kept up to date with boosters. It means smallpox, which could easily be brought to our county from abroad, but which would not spread if people had recent vaccinations. It means typhoid fever which can be prevented by safe water supplies and sewage disposal, by proper handling of food in restaurants, by finding the people who might be carrying the disease germs.

Second, we wish that 1951 will bring a chest x-ray to every adult in the county as a step in eradication of tuberculosis, a contagious disease which can be stopped.

Third, we wish that 1951 will bring more hospital beds for the people who have tuberculosis and are on the waiting list.

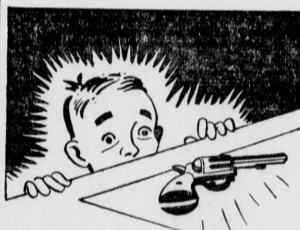

Fourth, we wish that 1951 will bring a careful medical examination, preferably by the family doctor, for each child who begins his school life.

Fifth, we wish that 1951 will bring medical care to all expectant mothers and to babies in the county so that children will have the best possible start in life.

Sixth, we hope that 1951 will bring continued participation of volunteers in the health program, continued suggestions for strengthening the health service, and continued financial support of the public health activities in the county.

Last, we hope that 1951 will bring the fullest possible personal health and happiness to each and everyone.

L. W. KRUEGER SELLS IRVINGTON STORE

The purchase of the Irvington Dime & Dollar Store by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Leach was announced this week by L. W. Krueger, former owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach have moved into a home at 145 Fourth Street, Irvington, coming here from Torrington, Wyoming, where he was formerly a distributor for the Continental Oil Company.

The couple has two children, a son, Don, who is finishing school in Wyoming, and a daughter, Rebecca, who is now enrolled in the fourth grade in Irvington Elementary School.

"We are from a small town and we like small town life. We decided to settle in Irvington because we like the looks of the town and the friendliness of its people," Mr. Leach said this week.

Mr. Krueger said that he plans to assist his son, Monford, in the operation of the Krueger Variety Store in Irvington.

ALVARADO SHOWS PROGRESS IN CIVIL DEFENSE PROGRAM

The first meeting of the Alvarado Civil Defense Council and Advisory Committee was held last Friday evening at the Central Bank with Director Joe Ratekin in charge.

It was decided that a Firemen's Auxiliary be organized, composed of five regular employees of the Holly Sugar Company. They will be trained by Fire Chief Anthony Vargas and his staff.

The fire house has been designated as the official defense headquarters and the warning signal, in case of attack, will be given from there. It will consist of alternating high and low pitch blasts with a steady blast for the all-clear.

E. J. Wilson, communications chairman, asked that all persons having experience in amateur radio work and those who own or operate motorcycles or hot rods, volunteer their services.

The class in first aid instruction began holding sessions on January 15 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Roderick, welfare chairman. The classes are held Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

John Bond, block warden chairman, announced that he had completed most of the appointments and reported that the wives of the wardens will also be designated to serve during their husbands' absence.

SHOW STOPPER IN SAN JOSE SOON

A ballerina who stops the show with dazzling pirouettes is nothing new, but a ballerina who makes an audience sit up and cheer by singing a sultry blues is very definitely a novelty. That is what Renee Jeanmaire does "The Diamond Thief," one of the smash-hit ballets of "Les Ballets de Paris," the French company which will have a single performance in the civic auditorium, San Jose, on Sunday night, February 4.

"The Diamond Thief" was declared by Alfred Frankenstein of the San Francisco Chronicle to be "A gem, a jewel, a masterpiece," while the Call-Bulletin raved, "The Curran Theater, where Les Ballets de Paris opened last night, has not in years echoed with such howling applause."

Renee Jeanmaire, who gives "one of the most amazing portrayals seen on the modern stage" (N. Y. World-Telegram), is leading ballerina, with Colette Marchand of the seductive and alluring beauty and Roland Petit, breathtaking male dancer, as the other two stars. The entire company and show is absolutely Parisian and provide what the New York News described as "the electric shock which our dawdling show-going season needed to make it come alive."

"The Diamond Thief" is an hour-long witty ballet-musical of the Paris streets, bistros and markets, given along with "Carmen," the high-voltage dance version of the Meilhac and Halevy Opera.
